

THE 14TH SCANCOR PHD WORKSHOP ON INSTITUTIONAL ANALYSIS

STOCKHOLM SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS (SWEDEN), AUGUST 29 - SEPTEMBER 2, 2016

JOIN US IN BEAUTIFUL STOCKHOLM FOR A ONE-WEEK INTENSE PHD WORKSHOP ON INSTITUTIONAL ANALYSIS

At the 14th Scancor PhD workshop on Institutional Analysis international faculty will present current research, review recent papers, and discuss new methodological tools that deepen the institutional agenda. Special attention is given to institutional emergence, persistence, and transformation. We also emphasize methods of comparative, archival, and network analysis. Finally, we tackle issues involving contestation and strife around institutions and organizations.

Students will take away new insights and measures, and a deeper understanding of how to match conceptual questions with research methods. The workshop will prepare PhD students to carry out their own individual research using the methods of institutional analysis. Previous workshops were hosted at Stanford University, Copenhagen Business School, Aalto University, IESE Barcelona, University of Mannheim, WU-Vienna, Hebrew University of Jerusalem, and EMLYON Business School.
