Call for Applications for

Tenure-Track Position in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology seeks to fill at least one tenure-track position beginning October 2016.

While priority is given to specialty in Organization Studies, the position is also open to the specializations in Sociology, Anthropology and Demography.

The ideal candidate will articulate a clear and substantial scholarly agenda and has already demonstrated an ability to publish innovative and high-quality research in top-tier journals or books. Applicants with insufficient publications may be encouraged to defer their candidacy and apply for a post-doctoral fellowship with the department. Applicants should also note that while we, like other social science departments at our university, invite international scholars to join our faculty, the principal even if not mandatory language of instruction remains Hebrew.

Applicants should submit an academic biography, CV, three writing samples or publications and at least three letters of recommendation. Application materials should be submitted online directly to the search committee, at the following address: Http://ttp.ekmd.huji.ac.il

Applications should be submitted as soon as possible and no later than October 18th, 2015. We expect to notify candidates if they have the endorsement of the department by late January 2016. Final university approval of appointments is expected by March 2016.
